Event Results Rounds 13 & 14 Lake Fork, NM October 3 & 4, 2009

The colors were vibrant in Lake Fork Canyon as the leaves were changing for NMTA's second visit to the popular Jemez Mountains this year. Thank you, trialsmasters, for your time and efforts to organize this great event. TMs were Rob Hertrich, Eric Tidmore, Chris Porter, Chris Markham, Tim Brooks, and Curtis Kohl.

A ranger from the Forest Service watched over us during the weekend. He said good things about everyone's efforts to meet the permit guidelines. We are told the process should be easier in the future, which would be welcomed with a sigh of relief.

Sections were great for both days, as riders seemed happy with both content and difficulty. Great job, trialsmasters, it was a success.

Nathan Hassler was thrilled to garner a Champ win on Saturday, and a second Sunday, one point behind Eric Tidmore.

Colorado boys Al Duke and Ron Pocher carried home extra weight, as they both took home kachinas for overall wins in Expert and Sportsman, respectively. Thank you for being part of your club and riding with us again. Come again soon.

Kyle Goon racked up a couple more Intermediate wins, and has the distinction of having the highest championship points in any class. Konrad Clark notched a win and a second place finish in Novice, and has the second highest points in any class.

Lance Butler has the honors for most fives (probably ever) in a single day, as well as honors for getting the most tongues wagging (except perhaps Bob Rowland). Lance said his cast will be off for Roswell, and he plans to actually ride sections.

The points standings I believe are up to date. A recent careful review revealed a few glitches and undocumented TM points; corrections have been made (see Best 14 column). Call me if you see anything wrong with yours. Many riders still have a shot at the championship in their classes. Don't give up yet—show up in Roswell, improve your chances, November 7 & 8.

New Mexico

The NATC released the 2010 schedule. A tentative schedule appeared on the web site, then changed to the schedule to the right. The series begins in Oklahoma early May. Mid June it heads to the east coast for back to back weekends in Rhode Island and New York. The Youth National East, at the Trials Training Center in Tennessee, falls one week after New York. After a brief rest back home, national riders will head to Colorado, then head straight to California for the final NATC weekend. Riders of the Youth National West will have to rush to New Mexico.

This will be a busy schedule for anyone hoping to make them all. I am sure some crazy families will attempt to make all nationals. If one adds to that the El Trial de Espana, the Ute Cup, and local events, one gets numerous opportunities for improvement.

If you plan to ride nationals in 2010, either the Youth or NATC, call me so I can assemble Team New Mexico's and Youth Trials Team NM's rider list. Information needed include which events you would ride, what class will be contested, how you plan to travel, and whether you need a bike hauled. Further, please have jersey sizes ready. In 2009 we had other gear offered at reduced prices to Team riders (thanks to Ryan Young Products). If you are interested in pants, gloves, or boots, let me know that as well, as I will try to arrange something for 2010.

Let's have a great 2010, Team New Mexico! Start scheduling your vacation time around the schedule. Build travel, bikes, tires, and entry fees into your budget. And for all the youngsters in New Mexico (and their parents), there is no good reason not to plan to ride the Youth National West—it's in our back yard, Las Vegas, NM!

Page six contains a questionnaire for those riding the Nationals. Please let me know if you are considering or planning on riding nationals next year. I would like to start planning Team New Mexico's efforts as soon as possible; we need to order jerseys and number plates, as well as coordinate any bikes that need to be hauled.

2010 Schedule of Nationals and Youth Nationals
	Round	Date	Venue
El Trial de Espana		March 27 & 28	So. California
NATC National	1 & 2	May 1 & 2	Tishomingo, OK
